UoM VC cracks the whip

Gangothri hostel gates to be closed at 7.30 pm

Mysuru, Feb. 9 (RK&BCT) - In the wake of a series of complaints from parents, lecturers and fellow students, the University of Mysore (UoM) has decided to crack the whip on hostel unruliness and has prepared a 33-point guideline for implementation. "The rules will be implemented immediately," said Prof. B. Basavaraju, the In-Charge Vice-Chancellor.

Explaining the decisions taken by the authorities, the VC said that the University has a 100-year illustrious history. "So far, the hostels have remained uncontrolled. This must stop and we have to maintain the dignity of the University," he said.

What made the Vice-Chancellor to frame the guidelines? "Last week, I visited the hostels in Manasagangothri and also examined CCTV footages. I was shocked to see students entering the hostel beyond 10 pm and 11 pm. Many students were found indulging in unruly behaviour in the corridors and shockingly, some of them were in an inebriated state," the VC said.

As per the guidelines, hostel gates (both Men's Hostel and Women's Hostel) will be closed at 7.30 pm and if students are coming late due to unavoidable or academic reasons must obtain permission from Faculty Advisor and their names will be entered in the movement register. "We will be stricter for women and if a student is absent from the hostel for two days, they must obtain written permission from their parents," Prof. Basavaraju said.

Icons: Past, Present, Posterity

Without taking sides in the debate on whether the events narrated in the land's monumental epics as well as the characters therein were in the region of reality or only created by their ancient authors, one may take the liberty of talking about the leading lights of that era, admittedly the icons of their times. As for their counterparts featured in the pages of the land's history spanning several centuries, both their icon status and their pro-society deeds acclaimed by society of their as well as later generations, we can prepare a long list of them including social reformers, saints, spiritual giants, musicians, writers, poets, kings, statesmen, warriors, sports-persons, entrepreneurs, teachers and luminaries in many fields of human activities. Public speakers, addressing their captive audiences from different platforms on various occasions find it fascinating to invoke the names of the land's icons creating a lasting impression in the minds of their listeners.

We learn from scholars that God has taken different forms with both human and animal features in the distant past to meet specific contingencies arising out of misconduct of demons, some of whom also have been bestowed iconic status, although in a negative sense, may be similar to portrayal of heroes and villains in movies!

India's many icons, often figuring in speeches by persons holding high posts, have come from virtually all regions of the country, including Karnataka, marked by both local flair and global glare in different periods. Even iconoclasts have found place in the pages of the land's long history, although it is unsavoury to recollect their names. Both the President and Prime Minister, during their address on different platforms in the State capital this week chose to invoke the icons of Karnataka thus elevating the spirits of the large number of listeners. Not surprisingly, the icons recollected by the VVIPs included women who rebelled against alien rule immortalising themselves. Being in a different class, many leading lights in society who earned glorious references to the kings of erstwhile Princely State of Mysore are also icons often remembered respectfully by people.

All said and done, the list of citizens qualifying for being accorded iconic status in the present times has shrunk to embarrassing proportions. Of the icons who may emerge in posterity, one need not take a pessimistic view. Every generation has its share, some more, some others less.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Among the many urban ills seriously impacting the citizens of Bengaluru, one of the most pressing is the diminishing space for pedestrians. Over the last few years, the State government and those at the helm of Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP), in their hunger for 'growth' and 'development', have been concentrating on building a maze of roads and structures, giving little thought to the needs of pedestrians. The officials of the BBMP and government Ministers only seem to talk about road-widening, signal-free corridors, ring roads, flyovers and underpasses — most of them expensive, unnecessary and wasteful projects — to enable motorists to whizz through, with not the slightest attention to the needs of the pedestrians. Everything is planned and designed for motorists. In the process, people who are on foot or on bicycles have been ignored and have become unwelcome in a city whose wealth has risen but whose civic attitudes have worsened. — In Deccan Herald.

Sharing home with a Crocodile

West Java: It was 1997 when Muhammad Iwan, 41, bought the reptile for just 25,000 Indonesian Rupiah ($1.8), named it Kojek, and welcomed it into his family home in Sempur Sub-District, West Java, as a pet. The tiny crocodile has grown into a massive 200kg gentle giant that Muhammad claims would never hurt him and his family. It's this gentle side of Kojek that has made him a star in Indonesia, with people traveling to Sempur from all corners of the archipelago just to see him interact with his human family. His amazing photographs showing Muhammad bathing the large 2.7m (8ft, 8in) apex predator in his front yard just meters away from his small children aged 2 and 10, went viral last week, sparking all kinds of reactions. Muhammad said that "his treatment is not too special. I clean his water once a week and give him skin care and brush his teeth." His diet initially consisted of carp, but as he grew so did his dietary demands, between 1.5kg and 5kg of goldfish daily.

Beautiful Man

Astana: Arina Aliyeva, one of the finalists of the 2018 Miss Virtual Kazakhstan beauty contest, recently shocked the nation after announcing that she was actually a 22-year-old man who had signed up for the national contest to prove an important point. It all started with an argument Eli Diaghilev, a young Kazakh male model, had with his friends about female beauty. He argued that in the old days women valued qualities like individuality and charisma, while most young women nowadays just follow the most popular trends. Diaghilev's friends apparently didn't agree, so he decided to prove his point by signing up for the Miss Virtual Kazakhstan beauty contest. With a bit of help from a makeup artist and hairstylist, Eli Diaghilev became Arina Aliyeva, a young woman representing Shymkent in the popular beauty contest. He posted some photos of himself as Arina online, to the surprise of Diaghilev's friends, Arina Aliyeva made the finals of the Miss Virtual Kazakhstan beauty contest. But the 22-year-old model had already proven his point, so he released a video revealing that the popular female contestant was actually him in disguise.

More on deficiency in postal service

Sir,

This has reference to the letter on deficiency in postal service at R.K. Nagar area (SOM dated Feb.6). I would like to add one more deficiency with regard to speed post delivery.

As my residence is located at the second floor of the building and to avoid embarking steps, speed posts are delivered ground below at their convenience after obtaining fake signatures. Fake signatures would also help the receiver to defy their claim status later.

Speed posts are received by me after a week which are thrown anywhere at the corridor or balcony. Confusingly, when postal details are obtained from the consignor and duly checked, it was clear that the consignment was delivered a week back. Surprisingly, it is a fact that contents are photocopied and the cover safely closed to its originality. A person has also harassed me with the exact details of the content as well as with blackmail calls. All due to postal service deficiency. Police complaints never withstand the matter unless there is some solid evidence.

I would like to know from the Postal Department if Speed Post / Registered Post / MOs can be delivered to those other than the addressee ? Postal department may clarify. This problem is also applicable to Courier services.

Naganahalli Satellite Terminal Railway Station to be a reality soon

Union Government approves project in its 2018-19 Budget; MP Pratap Simha's efforts pays off

Mysuru, Feb. 9 - The highly-essential Satellite Terminal Railway Station for Mysuru at Naganahalli will soon be a reality as the Union government has approved the project in its recently presented Budget 2018-19. The estimated project cost is Rs.789.29 crore.

The proposal was mooted by Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, who submitted it to Railway Minister Piyush Goyal. After having a series of discussion with the Minister, the MP has been successful in sanctioning the amount for the project that will greatly help in decongesting the Mysuru Railway Station.

Once the Naganahalli terminal station becomes a reality, there will be more scope for additional trains to come to Mysuru, especially from Bengaluru. Although the work on doubling the Railway track between Bengaluru and Mysuru has been completed, the complaint from the passengers is that there are no additional trains though the journey speed has increased by around five minutes.

Naganahalli terminal's objective is to decongest the city as well as to provide better service to passengers residing in sub-urban areas. The project is planned on the outskirts of the city where trains can originate or terminate.

MP Pratap Simha is seen with Railway Minister Piyush Goyal at the latter's office in New Delhi recently.

Naganahalli is around 8.55 km from Mysuru on Mysuru -Bengaluru broad gauge section. In the proposed infrastructural facilities, there will be six platform lines of 750 metres length, eight stabling lines (725 meters each), four maintenance lines (620 metres each), two sick lines (225 metres each) and one wheel line (50 metres).

Apart from this, four high-level island platforms and one high-level platform on the station house side plus one high level platform at the extreme end of the running line - each of 585 metres has been proposed. Each passenger platform will be provided with shelter and connected through foot-over-bridge.

The land to be acquired for the project is over 370 acres. Among the benefits of the Naganahalli terminal are, many train new services can be started and it will ease the pressure on the Mysuru City Railway Station that is presently handling about 90 passenger-carrying trains per day.

Arrival of trains at Mysuru Station entails a lot of work, especially in terms of cleaning. Accommodating more trains means more work in terms of maintenance which is very difficult under the present circumstances. Once Mysuru gets a terminal Railway Station, some of the load of traffic will be shifted to that station.

Introduction of new services with the existing infrastructure at the City Railway Station is impossible and the Naganahalli terminal can take care of the projected passenger traffic and achieve a growth of 10% annually for the next 20-25 years.

Initially, the terminal station was proposed at Kadakola Railway Station, but the Railway authorities later decided to have a terminal station at Naganahalli that comes before the Mysuru City Railway Station.

The Railway authorities in Mysuru have finalised the detailed project report for the new station which was sent to the divisional headquarters in Hubballi, before it was subsequently forwarded to the Railway Board in New Delhi.

Assembly polls: JD(S) ties up with BSP

Deve Gowda Mayawati

New Delhi, Feb.9 - Ahead of the Assembly polls in Karnataka, the JD(S) and Mayawati-led Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP) on Thursday announced an alliance with an eye on the sizeable dalit votes in the State.

BSP General Secretary Satish Chandra Mishra and JD(S) General Secretary Kunwar Danish Ali, who addressed a joint press conference here, said the JD(S)-BSP alliance will be formally launched on Feb. 17 in Bengaluru at a rally that will be addressed by former Prime Minister H.D. Deve Gowda and BSP Supremo Mayawati.

Out of the 224 Assembly segments in the State, the BSP will contest 20 seats, he said and added that the in-principle agreement to join hands was taken at a meeting between Deve Gowda and Mayawati on Feb. 1 at New Delhi.

Describing the alliance as a path-breaking move that would have large ramifications for Indian politics, Ali said in Karnataka, the BSP will be contesting from 8 SC/ST reserved and 12 general Assembly constituencies spread across 14 districts and added that the JD(S) will fight for the remaining 204 seats.

Constituencies where BSP will contest

Kollegal (SC), Chamarajanagar, Gundlupet, Anekal (SC), Nippani, Chikkodi-Sadalaga, Raibag (SC), Honnali, Bidar (North), Chittapur (SC), Kalaburagi Rural (SC), Vijayanagar (Hospet), Bagalkot city, Karkala, Hubballi-Dharwad (East), Byadagi, Shirahatti (SC), Gadag city, Babaleshwar and Sullia.

Collision between KSRTC buses: Death toll rises to 3

Mysuru, Feb. 9 (RK&DM)- The death toll in the head-on collision between two KSRTC buses near Shanthagiri estate close to Suntikoppa on Mysuru-Madikeri highway in Kodagu district on Thursday, has risen to three, with the death of a woman passenger of one the buses, at a private hospital in the city in the wee hours of today.

The deceased has been identified as Shanthi (66), wife of Ramappa of Hunsur Taluk.

Meanwhile, the condition of another injured passenger Jagadish, 48, of Bettahalli in Somwarpet Taluk, continues to be critical, according to hospital sources.

Yesterday, two drivers were killed on the spot and over 15 passengers were injured, five of them critically.

Palaksha (52) and Moideen Sharif (54) were the drivers who were killed in the mishap.

Protesters demand completion of Ambedkar Bhavans

Mysuru, Feb.9 (PM&DM)- Alleging that there was slow progress in the construction of Ambedkar Bhavans across the district, members of the Karnataka Dalit Sangharsha Samithi (KDSS) staged a demonstration in front of the DC office here on Thursday to demand speedy completion of the Bhavans.

Claiming that the construction works of Ambedkar Bhavans at some places have made little progress, while in some other places the Bhavans are left incomplete, the protestors said that the incomplete Ambedkar Bhavans have turned into shelters for stray cattle and are being misused by miscreants.

Alleging official apathy for incomplete works, the protestors urged the Government to take necessary measures for completion of the Bhavans. KDSS office-bearers S. Rajashekarmurthy, Somanna, Ningaraj and others took part in the protest.

Govt. does a U-turn; withdraws notice on Hindu Mutts

Bengaluru, Feb. 9 - Under fire from various quarters, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah yesterday announced that a notification inviting suggestions on the regulation of Hindu Mutts and other religious institutions will be withdrawn.

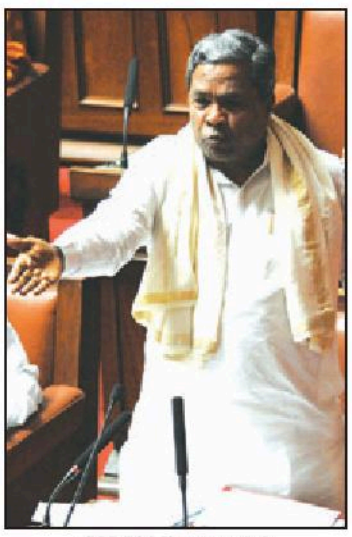
The Department of Religious and Charitable Endowments (Muzrai), on Jan. 29, had issued a notification inviting public opinion on the proposal to bring mutts, temples and other religious centres under its ambit.

A heated debate was witnessed in both Houses of the Legislature on the issue yesterday. The Leader of the Opposition in the Legislative Council K.S. Eshwarappa even sought to move an adjournment motion, accusing the government of being 'anti-Hindu'. He said "This is a mischief. Why don't you include Muslims? It's shameful that we are even discussing a subject like this. Are Hindus and Hindu religious institutions taken for granted?"

Intervening in an adjournment motion, Siddharamaiah announced that the public notice seeking feedback would be withdrawn. "It is not a circular but a public notice seeking opinion.

There is no question of the government taking mutts and temples under its control," he clarified.

He said the Division Bench of the High Court of Karnataka had quashed the Endowments Act and directed formulating a new Act, following which a public opinion was sought. "A similar public notice had been issued during your (BJP's) rule by the committee headed by former Chief Justice Rama Jois. Why were you silent then?" Siddharamaiah asked, displaying copies of the previous public notice.



CM Siddharamaiah

BJP State president B S Yeddyurappa accused the State Government of indulging in vote-bank politics by trying to take control of mutts, temples and other religious institutions in the State.

"The Siddharamaiah Government is again targeting Hindus. Why take control of religious institutions of only certain communities? Is this social justice you (Siddharamaiah) are working for?" he asked.

The House witnessed heated discussion among BJP and Congress members over the matter. Later, unhappy with the answer and demanding an apology from the Chief Minister, BJP and Janata Dal (Secular) members staged a walkout.

This is the second time that the government, embarrassed over the content of government communiqué's, has made a U-turn. Earlier, a communication to Superintendents of Police, seeking their opinion on withdrawal of cases against minorities, had turned the heat on the government.

The government then announced that it was not applicable only to minorities.

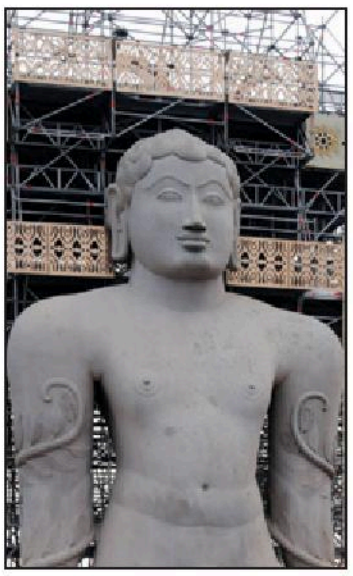
DOLIWALLAS



from Shikharji carry infirm to Bahubali's abode up the hill

Doliwallas carry a devotee up the Vindhyagiri at Shravanabelagola. Over 80 Doliwallas, along with their families, have come for the Mahamastakabhisheka that was inaugurated on Feb. 7 and will go on till Feb. 25. [Pics by M.N. Lakshminarayana Yadav]

Hassan, Feb. 9 (LNY&BCT)- Over 300 Doliwallas are coming to Shravanabelagola from Shikharji to carry the devotees up the Vindhyagiri for them to have darshan of Lord Bahubali and witness the ongoing 88th Mahamastakabhisheka.

As of now, there are 20 designated local Doliwallas employed by the Shravanabelagola Jain Mutt who have been doing this business of carrying devotees since the past 15 or 20 years. 80 more Doliwallas have joined them from Shikharji in Jharkhand.

Following demand, 300 more Doliwallas are coming to carry the devotees. Dolis are chair-like structures, in which the infirm and elderly devotees are ferried. Each Doli is carried by four people. Vindhyagiri is at a height of 470 feet from the ground level. To have darshan of Bahubali statue, one should climb 630 steps. The Archaeology department has constructed special steps for the Doli carriers.

"While we are permanently here, these Doliwallas from Jharkhand assist us. Lakhs of devotees are arriving to witness the Mahamastakabhisheka and the festivities will go on till the end of March. We hope to do good business as there will be many people including physically challenged and the elderly to be carried up the hill," said Ashok Kumar, a resident of Shravanabelagola. He is one of the designated Doliwallas by the Jain Mutt.

"Carrying devotees in a Doli to the top of the hill requires special skills and all the carriers must be perfectly synchronized. We take work very seriously, including maintaining a special diet. It is not an easy task. Most devotees who seek our services are senior citizens. So we must carry them carefully without shaking the Doli," Ashok Kumar says.

Doliwallas from Shikharji in Jharkhand do this job day-in-and-day-out and are masters of the act. The pilgrimage to Shikharji is a round trip of 30 km through Madhuban forest. "Parasnath Hill, or Shikharji, is a famous Jain pilgrimage site situated in Giridih district in Jharkhand. The pilgrimage to Shikharji is a round trip of 30 km through the Madhuban forest. The section from Gandharva Nala stream to the summit is the most sacred to Jains. The pilgrimage is made on foot or by a Doli along a concrete-paved track. Carrying hundreds of devotees all through the year have made us strong and we can carry devotees atop Vindhyagiri effortlessly," said Sunalal Marandi from Madhuban.

A batch of Doliwallas wait at the foot of Vindhyagiri to offer their services for the devotees.

"Shikharji means venerable peak. The site is also called Sammed Śhikhar or Sammet Shikhar, meaning the peak of concentration, because it is a place where 20 of 24 Thirthankaras attained a state of moksha through meditative concentration," said Desraj, who has been carrying the Dolis since decades. The fee charged by Doliwallas per trip at Shikharji is Rs. 4,000 as it is a cumbersome journey.

Ravidas from Giridih district said that they have come with their families and accommodation has been provided by the Mutt.

"It is a long train journey from Shikharji to Shravanabelagola and we have come here to earn a living out of Mahamastakabhisheka that happens once in 12 years. We understand the sentiments of Jain pilgrims as we meet many of them at Shikharji," he says.

Devotees climb the steps of Vindhyagiri to have darshan of the monolithic 58.8-feet statue of Bahubali.

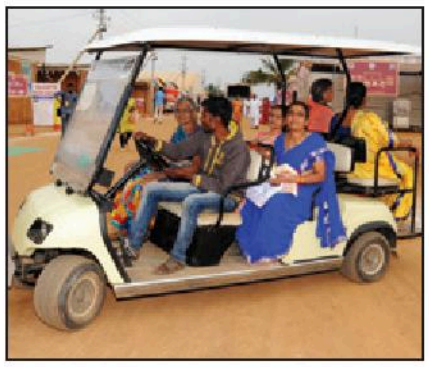
These men from Jharkhand, along with their counterparts, charge Rs. 110 per trip. "We climb the hill with the support of a five-foot-long stick and take care to ensure that those sitting in the Doli are not inconvenienced. While the basic charge is Rs. 110, it also depends on the weight of the devotees," he says.

When asked about their routine, Prathibhal Baske said, "We cannot understand Kannada and don't know English. It is very tough to manage as we have to buy groceries and the shopkeepers don't speak Hindi. Somehow we manage by showing the items we need in the shop. Whenever a customer comes to us we quote the price and they happily oblige."

Hundreds of Scouts and Guides are ensuring that the devotees are not inconvenienced in any way. Apart from directing the devotees and Jain Munis to their respective townships, these volunteers stand at vantage points guiding the general public to food counters and shelter homes.

Over one lakh devotees are fed every day and these Scouts and Guides play an important role here. They also stand at regular intervals from the base to the top of Vindhyagiri providing water to the thirsty devotees.

Battery-powered buggies



Over 15 Tongas from Mysuru have been taken to Shravanabelagola to ferry the devotees around the town. Apart from Tongas, battery-powered buggies have been arranged for the devotees and visitors.

700 tonnes of food grains pour in for 88th Mahamastakabhisheka

Hassan, Feb. 9- Over 40 lakh visitors who are arriving at Shravanabelagola for the Mahamastakabhisheka are given free food. And to make this a success, thousands of Jain families have been donating generously.

Massive quantities of groceries — from wheat and jaggery to oil, rice and coconuts — have been pouring in from visitors and the faithful. So far, organizers say they have received about 700 tonnes of food grain from donors across the country.

According to organisers, of the total requirement of groceries, they have received half the quantity in the form of donations. Six kitchens with 120 cooks per kitchen have been set up. Besides this, 17 dining halls have been set up. Each hall can seat 10,000 people at a time. Free breakfast, lunch and dinner would be provided to the public till Feb. 26.

Many dedicated townships have been set up to accommodate lakhs of devotees and also Jain Munis who are arriving at Shravanabelagola.

Pancha Kalyana rituals begin

Devotees sprinkle rice grains on a stone carving that represents the feet of Lord Bahubali.

Shravanabelagola Jain Mutt seer Charukeerthi Bhattaraka Swami yesterday (Feb.8) launched Pancha Kalyana rituals performed as part of the Mahamastakabhisheka. This will be held in five stages. It will showcase the five phases in the life of Bahubali, who renounced his kingdom and attained nirvana. The rituals will be conducted by hundreds of tyagis from different parts of the country.

Rituals like suprabhatha, japanushthana, Abhishekas and aradhanas were held at sanskar mantap, attended by 'Indra Indrani padavidharakaru', 'ashtakannikeyaru' and others.

The rituals included recreating the scenes depicting Thirthankaras mother Marudevi's dreams, Seemantha rituals, receiving of jewellery from Lord Kubera and inauguration of Rajabhavan, with religious grandeur.

A grand procession was held as part of 'Garbha Kalyana' rituals. Vardhaman Sagar Maharaj, acharyas and others attended.

Shvetambara sect Jain women participate in Bhajans at one of the townships in the pilgrimage centre.

SP holds meeting with Labour Union Leaders

SP Ravi D. Channannavar is seen addressing Labour Union Leaders and Workers at his office here this morning as ASP N. Rudramuni, Labour Officer Manjula and others look on.

Mysuru, Feb.9 (RK&DM)- As part of his initiative to meet all stakeholders of various sectors in order to hear and address their grievances, SP Ravi D. Channannavar held a meeting with Labour Union Leaders and workers of the district at his office here this morning.

Soon as the meeting began, some union leaders alleged that industry owners were harassing the workers if they resorted to protest or stir to demand facilities that are rightfully due to them. They further alleged that the owners would use their money power and influence to crush their protest by unfair means. Even the Police too were not helping the labourers and in most of the times, the protesters have to cope up with unjustified Police action, which included not allowing pitching of tents, access to civic amenities such as drinking water & toilets etc., they alleged.

Maintaining that they had all the rights to stage strikes etc. with in the purview of law in order to register their protest, the union leaders highlighted the plight of workers serving in various industries.

They also questioned the inaction of the Labour Department for resolving industrial disputes in a fair and amicable manner.

SP Ravi D. Channannavar after hearing and registering the complaints and grievances of labour leaders, said that the Police will step in only when there was violation of laws.

He said that the workers can directly complain to him when there was harassment in the workplace.

The SP directed the labour authorities to take necessary measures to ensure that the rights of workers are protected at the workplace.

About 60 labour leaders and workers from across the district took part in the meeting.

Assistant Labour Commissioner Thammanna, Labour Officer Manjula, ASP N. Rudramuni, Mysuru South CPI Karim Ravuthar and others were present.

The guidelines also mention that hostel inmates must wear 'appropriate clothes' inside the hostel and hostelites are banned from speaking in the singular to hostel staff. They must not indulge in ragging and sexual harassment. They must have mandatory 75 per cent attendance in class and laboratories as per the rules laid down by the Supreme Court.

Action will be taken on students violating the norms and it includes eviction from the hostel. "We will not serve them notice. But will ask them to vacate the hostel. Many squatters and unauthorised persons staying inside the hostel will be evicted and if need be, we will use Police force for the same," the In-charge VC said.

To ban pornography, the University authorities have decided to block such websites on the internet lines provided by the University for academic use.

Mentioning that a sort of self-discipline and self-reformation has been achieved with the installation of CCTV cameras at the entrance, corridors, dining halls and store rooms of the hostels, Prof. Basavaraju said that more such cameras will be installed to enforce discipline.

"This is for the first time that rules are being enforced at the University Hostels. At present, the University of Mysore is running 20 hostels for students in Mysuru, Chamarajanagar, Mandya and Hassan. Of these, one hostel is for working women. The guidelines will be implemented at all the hostels and the rules have been framed in the interests of students," he added.

Reacting on the implementation, some students expressed resentment at the decision and said that the move to close the gates by 7.30 pm will prevent them from visiting libraries and gymnasiums. Also, the dress code inside the hostel is uncalled for, they said.

WORD OF THE DAY

Widdershins

Pronunciation: adverb -Scottish [wɪdəʃɪnz]
Meaning: In a left-handed or contrary direction; counterclockwise.
Origin: English speakers got widdershins from an old German word meaning, "to go against," and by the mid-1500s we were using the word as we use it today – as a synonym for counter clockwise.
For the first 200 years of the word's life, however, it had another meaning as well – it was used to describe that particular kind of bad hair day when unruly hair stands on end or simply falls the wrong way.

THE ODD WORD

Snickersnee

To engage in cut-and-thrust fighting with knives.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A dime a dozen

Meaning: Something very common and not having much value.
Origin: The dime, or the US ten cent coin was introduced in 1796. During the 1800s, this phrase was used in its literal meaning, referring to items that cost a dime for a dozen of those items. Since the early 1900s, the phrase has been used in its figurative sense, meaning something common and of less value.

QUOTE BOX

The roots of all goodness lie in the soil of appreciation for goodness.
